

WHO WE ARE

We are a group of Telecom and Audio Professionals with a passion for helping all religious organizations minister to their homebound, shut-ins, sick, hospital bound, assisted living and nursing home residents.

Our organization is backed by a network of technology affiliations as well as the experience of our founders with over 45 combined years in diverse fields of telecommunications and technologies.

Our mission is to assist any religious organization by the development, design, and delivery of a host of communication services that will allow these organizations to better meet the spiritual needs of their less mobile members.

WHAT WE DO

Lightcast Networks provides the first real-time audio connection to your various services and presentations using simple and reliable telecommunication technology.

We offer assistance to churches and other various religious organizations in evaluating their remote ministries. We then design and select the appropriate real-time audiocast equipment and services, coordinate the installation and implementation, and provide the necessary training for our clients.

The audiocast service and equipment is modest in cost and simple to use. It is designed for the primary purpose of bringing the spiritual ministry to the chronic and temporary homebound who may be isolated from the congregation due to their immobility. These may include the elderly, the disabled, those with sick or newborn children, patients with debilitating illnesses, and in some cases, the person in a self imposed state of isolation.

Lightcast provides these services utilizing proven technology in a very affordable way. Your organization is connected to your participants through the telephone network and Lightcast certified equipment placed at the organization and participant's location. This permits the person who is hearing the service - and others who may be gathered around at a remote location - to enjoy the service as it is in progress.

 MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

There is nothing more comforting to an isolated member than to be able to connect to the worship service when he or she cannot be present in person. There is something very special about that.

As our population grows older and less mobile, we must find new ways to reach out to those that are less fortunate. We believe we have done just that.

Lightcast Networks has created the ideal solution by allowing each religious entity to reach out to those that are less mobile, giving them a sense of belonging. Special programs and events can now be enjoyed by all - whether in person or remote. Missionaries can update congregations more often and youth groups can be in touch while away. The ministry opportunities using these services are unlimited!

*Sincerely,
Edward Baker

Comments we expect to hear again and again:

"I feel like I belong again."

"This is as simple as hitting a button on a radio"

"It sounded great!"

"This was long overdue"

"We used the option for 2-way at our church so a mission trip could reply to our Pastor during our service. It was impressive"

"Here at the Home, our residents no longer feel forgotten."

"My husband is with the military and across seas; he is allowed to call home periodically. It will be great when he calls in for our child's dedication ceremony."
